

COUNTRY IN THE CITY

Dyckman Farmhouse Museum

Sunday, May 4, 2008

10am-4pm

Where else can you sit on a porch in Manhattan? Enjoy the arrival of spring by joining us for a FREE Open House at Dyckman Farmhouse Museum. Trees and flowers will be blooming, creating a lovely oasis in the city. A special feature of the day in the "country" will be the work of the Empire Quilters, Inc. who reproduced a historic quilt in the Dyckman collection. See the finished quilt, watch quilters at work and view historic quilts from the Dyckman collection.

EVENTS DURING THE DAY

Quilters at Work

Throughout the day

Quilters from Empire Quilters, Inc. will be at work on the front porch.

Quilts in the Collection

Throughout the day

Several 19th century quilts from the Dyckman collection that have not been on display in several years will be viewable for one day only. Also on view will be the recently completed reproduction quilt made for our period bedroom by the Empire Quilters, Inc.

Story Time Sunday

1:30pm

Recommended for ages 5-9.

Quilt Story by Tony Johnston

Quilts do so much more than just keep you warm. They can tell stories and hold special memories. This week we will read a story about a little girl and the cherished quilt that holds her favorite memories. Be sure to bring some memories of your own, because you will get to design your own special quilt square. Reservations recommended, as space is limited. All children must be accompanied by an adult.

Guided Tour of Dyckman Farmhouse

4pm

Learn the behind the scenes story of how this country house became part of the city and became a museum. A special focus of the tour will be the textiles, including the quilts, both old and new, in the collection.

Reservations recommended, as space is limited.
